MEMBERS WON'T HAVE ABOUT THE PLACE.

The Club's House Committee Ordered the Newspaper Removed From the Flies, in Compliance With a Petition Signed by a Large Number of the Clubmen

The House Committee of the New York Athletic Club met yesterday afternoon and by a unanimous vote decided to bar the New York Journal from the files of the club. This action was taken as a result of a petition circulated in the club and signed by more than 400 members in less than twenty-four hours. The petition than twenty-four hours. The petition omous snake, were you to discover one was addressed to the House Committee in your yard." and read as follows:

We, the undersigned, respectfully request that you exclude from the files of the club the New York Journal, in view of its recent anarchistic utterances and in-sults to the late President McKinley."

HEARST'S YELLOW DENOUNCED. strong Words Against the "Journal" at a Memorial Meeting in Queens.

There was a large and earnest memorial meeting at Richmond Hill in the borough of Queens on Thursday evening, at which the people who had come together to do honor to the memory of President McKinley turned a vigorous part of their attention to vellow journalism, and in particular, William R. Hearst's New York Journal The school hall in which the meeting was held was crowded, and every reference the yellow journals denouncing them was roundly applauded.

H. C. McLaughlin, who is principal of the New York State Normal School at Jamaica. said, in addressing the meeting: "I tell you that the man who sits in his editorial office and pens an inflammatory article may have sufficient self-control to withhold his hand from the assassin's knife, but those poor wretches who read that article may not have the same self-control and may go forth and do that which the editor advocates. Your wrath falls on the man who did this deed; but I tell you there are others who taught him the ex-

"There are those who taught him the example.

"There are those who put before such men articles which they read and incorporate into their very character. The man who does this is the man who deserves our reprobation most. Read the best papers. Banish those from your homes and your sight which incite to anything like violence against the rulers of our country. If the death of William McKinley. violence against the rulers of our coun-if the death of William McKinley try. If the death of William Mckinley makes us hate these evil editorials and inflammatory articles and that feeling causes us to banish them from our homes and sight, then William McKinley will not have died in vain. There was prelonged applause when Mr. McLaughlin finished.

Another speaker who used plain words applause when Mr. McLaughlin finished.
Another speaker who used plain words was the Rev. William P. Evans of the Protcetant Episcopal Church of the Resurrection. "It is well enough," he said, "to say that we will drive the Anarchists off the face of the earth. Such talk is useless. This is a free country. But it is entirely too free in some respects. We ought to have a proper respect for those in authority, a proper reverence for our President. Teach people that they owe their allegiance to the nation, not to a party. Young people proper reverence for our President. Teach people that they owe their allegiance to the nation, not to a party. Young people ought to be taught not to enjoy those abominable pictures of some of our public men depicted in a certain section of the press. When I lived in Paterson, I saw an Italian terrelations are according to the press. boy looking at an undignified picture in a paper. The boy noticed that I was ob-serving him, and raising his head he shook it. Too bad, too bad, he murmured. serving him, and raising his head he shook it. 'Too bad, too bad,' he murmured. That boy had more sense than the publisher of that paper and the artist who drew the picture, and, I had almost said, than the people who laughed at it.'

The Rev. Mr. Evans read, amid much applause, a letter from a business man denouncing the New York Journal.

LOATHES HEARST'S "JOURNAL" Chancellor Day of Syracuse University Says It Has Bred Assassination.

by the New York Journal for an expression upon President McKinley, Chancellor killed and four wounded in the battle. the following to that paper:

Samuel Hicks, General Manager, New York Journal:

DEAR SIR: Will you please never send to this office any matter bearing the imprint of the New York Journal? I loathe he New York Journal as I do the unspeakable wretch who shot our great President. I believe your paper, more than any other agent in this country, helped to make the conditions which encouraged such assassination. To have our institution commended by such a paper would be a burn-JAMES R. DAY.

In an address at the Alhambra last night Chancellor Day said: The wickedness lies at our doors in that we have tolerated for months and years certain deformities of journalism which have proceeded to abet and comfort the assassin. And these horrible abeeis, I charge solemnly to-night, are more responsible in the sight of Almighty God for the assassination of William McKinley than is the poor wretch who shot the bullet at Buffalo. They nerved his hand, they excited his courage, they crazed his brain, and when he goes to the electric chair at least one of the editors of those yellow journals ought to take a seat beside him to expiate the crime of himself and his fellow assassin. The leading yellow journals of this country stated a little while ago that it was a pity that the Anarchists should go abroad to kill monarchy when so many hig men and the monarchs when so many big men and the real Kings were near at home. That same yellow journal spoke of the President as McKinley and his Wall Street Cabinet, who surrendered every point of national dignity and honor, and that same paper stated that in some not remote winter time the American people would pass by the window of the White House begging for bread, and that a fat hand would be out with the answer: A Trust

That same paper proceeded to speak of sainted President in adjectives which the sainted President in adjectives which is will not use in this presence, and invoked the burning of his effigy. Is it small wonder that the assassin misinterpreted the sentiment of America and believed that when he shot the President he would do the will of the people? But is there nothing that we can do with this foe? What shall we And I will say to you that America will cease to be America if she does not arise in all her majesty and her power and exterminate from between the two seas the last vestige of anarchism until there not be a poison bulb or root or twig anywhere of that abominable doctrine seeks to overcome established order and law by the dagger and by the pistol

CASTING OUT THE "JOURNAL." One Newsdealer in Matteawan Excludes It From Ills Store.

MATTEAWAN, N. V., Sept. 20, -There is Fishkill Landing, the adjoining village the two being known as the twin villages, exterminate the New York Journal The four largest newsdealers here have caught onto the trend of coming events, and to-day Mr. Inman, one who sells a number of papers, posted large placards in his store windows to the effect that herefter he would exclude the Journal from

N.Y.A.C.KICKS "JOURNAL" OUT discontent its columns have spread promiscuously for the past few years. Even newsboys say they do not care if the Journal comes here or not. They say the call is comes here or not. They say the call is now for decent newspapers.

Yesterday at a largely attended memorial service in the Reformed Church at Fishkill Landing, Benjamin Hammond, who is President of the Board of Education and twice served as President of the village, denounced Hearst and his yellow in no unmistakable terms. His subject was anarchy, and he deplored the fact that William R. Hearst was using his father's millions to spread the seed of discontent and anarchy throughout our glorious republic. "Why," said Mr. Hammond, "we buy the best of books for our scholars at the public schools and then permit that anarchistic organ to circulate atnong homes where our children can see it. I implore where our children can see it. I implore you to stamp out this yellow journal, just as you would with your heels kill a ven-

YELLOWS MADE HIM CRAZY. This Man Couldn't Help What He Said Became of Their Effect.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 20.-Lieut. Brangan and a squad of police saved Joseph Vanden Eynden, a butcher of Sixth and Sedam streets, Sedamsville, from death on Thursday at the hands of an angry mob. It was alleged that he had declared satisfaction over President McKinley's death. An infuriated crowd dragged him toward the river with cries of "drown him." The butcher was rescued by the officers and locked up. Chief of Police Dietch to-day charged the man with disorderly conduct for unpatriotic utterances. He said that his right name is Joseph Vanden Eynden. He denied speaking disparagingly of the dead President. He acknowledged having said the Senator Hanne ledged having said that Senator Hanna ought to be shot. He told Chief Dietch that matter he had read about the trusts and cartoons he had seen made him hate everything connected with trusts. This feeling, he said, he could not shake off.

THE FIGHTING IN COLOMBIA. Details of the Government Victory at Bocas del Toro.

NEW ORLEANS Sept. 20.-The steamer Stillwater, which arrived here to-night, brings the full details of the battle at Bocas del Toro, Colombia, in which the Government troops were completely victorious over the revolutionists.

The fighting occurred last Sunday, and was unusually bloody for a South American battle. The Government troops at Bocas del Toro, having been reenforced by the arrival of a large contingent from Bogota, soldiers of experience and discipline under the command of Gen. Nunez, marched on the revolutionists' camp at Old Bank Island. Here was the largest body of men, although there were several smaller camps on the mainland around

A large red flag floated over the camp at Old Bank, which is said to have been under the command of an American adventurer. Among the revolutionists were many Jamaica negroes, who had been fruit dealers at Bocas and many planters from the coast country.

For more than a week the Government forces had been collecing launches to make the expedition. Enough were obtained by Saturday for a small force to be sent to Old Bank. As it approached the island the revolutionists opened fire on the advancing boats, wounding four of the soldiers. The Government troops, however, succeeded in making a landing on the north end of the island.

The next morning more Government troops landed on the south end of the island and the two parties advanced toward each other, catching the rebels between them. The revolutionists fled in the brush. The Government troops kept up a brisk hunt all day long, and over one hundred of the revolutionists were shot down in the brush, including the American commander and most of the Jamaica negroes.

About thirty prisoners were captured and brought to Booss, the Government troops returning amid cheering and great enthusiasm. The prisoners were tried at once by drum-head court-martial and condemned to be shot next morning, but STRACUSE, Sept. 20.—Upon being asked by the New York Journal for an expression

The Government forces lost only two stroyed, and the other revolutionists on the coast retreated into the interior, leaving the country around Bocas completely in the hands of the Government forces. The passengers on the Stillwater say that peace now reigns at Bocas and that business is being carried on the same as usual. A number of assassinations are reported in the town, growing out of politi-

MR. PLATT'S ATTITUDE.

The Senator Has Something to Say About the Municipal Campaign. Senator Platt had a few words to say on the municipal campaign yesterday. Concerning the selection of Seth Low as the anti-Tammany candidate. Mr. Platt said: "I don't care to discuss Mr. Low's merits for the office of Mayor. He has not yet been nominated, although the presumption is that he will be. I have all along expressed a preference for an independent Democrat. and that would still be my idea of a candidate to defeat Tammany, but the object of the anti-Tammany conference was to agree upon a man who suited all of the organizations opposed to Tammany not consult the wishes of any one individual. If Mr. Low is nominated, I shall support

"Would you also support Mr. Coler if be were nominated for some office on the he were nominated for some office on the anti-Tammany ticket?" was asked.

"Don't borrow trouble," replied the Senator with a laugh. "It is not likely that. Mr. Coler will get any nomination for any office that he wants, on any ticket. In this campaign the people want men who know where they stand. Mr. Coler, from what I read in the newspapers, doesn't even to care from which side he gets a seem to care from which side he gets a nomination. He would take a Tammany nomination as quick as he would grab a place on the anti-Tammany ticket. a vacillating desire for office is not likely to inspire confidence in either convention." Senator Platt was then asked what he thought of President Roosevelt's probable course, and he replied: "I think President Rooseveit meant exactive what he said when he declared it to be his intention of carrying out the McKin ley policy of government. I feel certain that prosperity will continue under Presithat prosperity will continue undent Roosevelt's administration.

Two-Thirds of a Squadron of the Seventeenth Lancers Killed or Wounded.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LONDON, Sept. 20. Corrected casualty returns show that the squadron of the Secenteenth Lancers in their fight with the force of Boer Commandant Smuts sustained a remarkable loss. Of a total force probably not exceeding 100 they lost three officers and thirty-nine killed and two officers and thirty-four men wounded.

Lord Kitchener, in a despatch to the War Office from Pretoria under vesterday's date, states that two guns of the Royal Horse Artillery were surrounded by a superior force of the enemy at Vlakfontein and captured. Lieut. Barry was killed. The artillery was escorted by a company of mounted infantry.

Mourning Cards by Post.

his store. He also publishes cards in the local papers to that effect. The other newsleaders are thinking of following in Mr Imman's steps for they realize in the remarkable decrease in sales in the past two weeks that public sentiment is strong against the newspaper and the gospel of his speeches.

A large number of the letters and postal cards received at the post office since Mr. McKinley's death have black borders, and small mourning ribbons pinned on the dead strain from his speeches. A large number of the letters and postal

MURPHY GOES TO SEE CROKER.

THEY TALKED POLICE MATTERS OVER AT THE CLUB.

Shevlin of Brooklyn, Too, Calls on the Squire of Wantage, and the Members of the Club Discuss Coler's Aspirations -Nixon's Boom Bobs Up Again.

Squire Richard Croker of Moat House. Wantage, Berks, England, who visited his friend ex-Senator Edward Murphy, Jr., at the latter's shore home in Long Branch on Thursday night, came back to town yesterday. The Souire expressed great indignation over the publication in Philadelphia of what purported to be an interview with him written by the biographer who is patronized by him. "I have not talked politics to anybody for publication since I came back," said Mr. Croker. 'You cannot make the denial of that interview too strong. Why, I have not seen the writer long enough to tell him the things that are written in that inter-

As a matter of fact the interview did not contain anything of startling importance. Mr. Croker was quoted as saying that the Tammany organization was harmonious and united, that it would win the election by 100,000 plurality, which is the and disappointed politicians, and a lot of other things of that kind. The inter-viewer remarked yesterday that some men didn't know when they were being inter-viewed, and that was all that he had to say about it.

In the evening the Squire met for the first time since his arrival on his estate in this called at the club in the evening and was welcomed cordially by the Squire. They went into the big red parlor and talked for an hour. Their conversation was of the most earnest character. What it was about neither of them would tell. As Col. Murphy was leaving the club he was asked if it were true that High Constable Devery was going to resign or be forced out of the department. What's that? What's that?" asked

"What's that? What's that?" asked the Commissioner, who is a very experienced and able politician. Then he went away. As he was going, James Shevlin of Brooklyn, accompanied by ex-Sheriff Cramer of Brooklyn, entered the club. Mr. Shevlin is the direct personal representative of the Hon. Hugh McLaughlin, a considerable landholder in Brooklyn borough, whose interests are identified to a great extent with those of Squire Croker.

Croker.

The Squire greeted Mr. Shevlin warmly, and invited him upstairs to the state apartment on the second floor. Mr. Creamer and Mayor Van Wyck had a chat all by themselves. After Mr. Shevlin and the Squire had been in conversation for some time, the members of the club began to discuss the possibility of the nonjuntion. discuss the possibility of the nomination of Coler as the Tammany candidate for Mayor. It is known that Mr. Coler has made the most vigorous efforts to have Mr. McLaughlin urge his nomination upon Mr. Croker, because he thinks that if he is Croker, because he thinks that if he is the regular Tammany candidate for Mayo this year he will be able to compel the Democratic State Convention next year to nominate him for Governor, and then to

to nominate him for Governor, and then to be in line for the Democratic nomination for President two years later.

As every one knows he has been carefully cultivating relations with Tammany district leaders, although he has condemned Squire Croker's actions in the most vigorous language. He has apologized for his attacks on the Squire by saving that it was all on the Squire by saying that it was all a joke, but the Squire has not a keen appreciaa joke, but the Squire has not a keen apprecia-tion of that sort of humor. The Tammany men at the club last night said that they understood that if Coler couldn't get the nomination for his present office, and that if it was to go to another he wanted to get the nomination for President of the Board of Aldermen.

Anyway, there was a lot of Coler talk to laugh at him.

The Lewis Nixon boom for Mayor was
The Lewis Nixon boom for Mayor was revived yesterday. Mr. Nixon is President of the East River Bridge Commission which will go out of existence on Jan. 1 under the terms of the new charter. He was the head vice-hunter for the Squire lest winter, and then his boom began, and then his boom began, and then his boom began, and in the afternoon a garden party will was the head vice-hunter for the Squire last winter, and then his boom began. His friends have never ceased to boom him from that day to this.

Yesterday the politicians who make their headquarters in Senator Plunkitt's office in the rotunda of the County Court House amused themselves with the report that Squire Croker's plan was to renominate the entire city ticket as it ran in 1897—Van Wyck for Mayor, Coler for Comptroller and Guggenheimer for President of the Board of Aldermen. There didn't seem to be very much substance in this report. Mayor Van Wyck is anxious for a nomination for the Supreme ious for a nomination for the Supreme Court, Mr. Guggenheimer is out of poli-tics, Mr. Coler, of course, will accept any nomination that he can get hold of CORRA DIDN'T HIT A ROCK Torpedo Boat Destroyer Broke Her Back in Heavy Sea -67 Lost.

Special Cable Despath to THE SUN. GRIMSBY, Sept. 20.—An inquest in the matter of those who lost their lives by the wrecking of the turbine torpedo boat destroyer, Cobra, opened here to-day. The Coroner said it was impossible that the vessel had struck a rock, as there is several fathoms of water where she foundered.

Petty Officer Warraner, one of the survivors, testified that a big sea was running at the time of the disaster. The Cobra was going slowly. One of the contractor's men came and told him to get the boats out as the vessel had broken her back. In a few moments the Cobra buckled up After he got away in the dingy, he saw the stern of the Cobra rear out of the water. Capt. Smith of a local steamer, who went to seek survivers, testified that the Cobra was in the navigable channel, where there is ten or twelve fathoms of water. She could not have struck a rock. She must have broken amidships. The inquest was then adjourned. LONDON, Sept. 20. It is announced officially that sixty-seven persons perished by the destruction of the torpedo-boat destroyer Cobra. Of this number forty-five were naval men. Among those lost by the sinking of the Cobra were Mr. Sandison, superintending Cobra were Mr. Sandison, superintending engineer of the Armstrong worss at Els-wick, and Mr. Barnard, manager of Par-son's Turbine Company, Mr. Barnard partly designed the Turbinia, the first ves-sel to be fitted with turbine engines, and supervised the building of the Viper, Cobra and King Edward.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS FAVOR LOW He Was One of the Organizers and First President of the Club.

The Young Republican Club of Brooklyn, net last night, and before transacting any regular business, adopted a minute on the death of President McKinley, declaring "his life an inspiration, his memory a benediction, his martyrdom an immortal heritage." This resolution was unanimously adopted: "Resolved. That the Young Republican Club approve of the recommendation of the Committee of 18 that Seth Low be noninated for Mayor as the candidate of the various organizations opposed to Tammany Hall."

Hall."
In seconding the resolution reference was made by the speakers to Mr. Low's popularity in Brooklyn and confidence was expressed that he would be elected. Mr. Low was one of the organizers and the first President of the Young Republican Club.

ROYAL DUKE ENTERS OTTAWA. The Canadian Capital Gives Him a Hearty

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 20.—The Duke of Cornwall and York took the Canadian capital by storm to-day and Ottawa was equal to the occasion. The welcome was as hearty as royalty could desire and the people delighted to honor the heir apparent to the throne.

Forty thousand persons came to the city to-day to see the Duke and Duchess. The streets are like rainbows in the daytime and at night the illuminations rival those at the Pan-American Exposition.

The royal train arrived at noon from Montreal and a special station was built to receive the Duke and Duchess. The Governor General was at the station to give the official welcome and then through the lines of troops the royal procession went to Parliament Hill. The procession traversed several of the principal streets and every vantage point was crowded All along the route the cheering was hearty.

When the royal procession came to the Parliament buildings the Duke and Duchess were welcomed by the Premier, Sir Wilfred Laurier, members of the Dominion Cabine and the Mayor of the city. Addresses of welcome were presented from the cities of Ottawa and Hull and from all the towns in the Ottawa Valley and also from the Boards of Trade and national societies.

The Canadians of Massachusetts, represented by Dr. Uphan of Boston, President of the Canadian Club in that city, presented an address to the Duke, as did also the Canadian Society of New York through President Bartindale, who came here for the occasion. Among the national society addresses was one from St. Patrick's Society of Ottawa, and part of this address referred to the hope of Ireland for local self-government to the extent that it is enjoyed in Canada

While the precautions taken to guard the Duke were not too evident to the general observer, it was noticed that near him at all times were many leading Canadian detectives, while Secret Service men not known to the general public mingled freely with the crowd.

The closing portion of the Duke's address was as follows:

May we not believe that this feeling (of mutual toleration) is shared by your more united than it ever was before, and interest which bind it together; more than ever determined to hold fast and maintain the proud privileges of British citizenship." Every man who levelled a camera at the Duke was closely watched. The leaders of the Secret Service wore gold shields on their frock coats and they stood nearest the Duke. Even when the civic deputations were gathered at the foot of the royal resulting to hear the Duke's reply to the pavilion to hear the Duke's reply to the welcomes the Secret Service men were in the front rank and any one who endeavored to approach too closely to the heir apparent to the throne, was quickly moved back. Military surrounded and on the outside were the school children carrying flags.

After the address the royal procession reformed and proceeded to Rideau Hall. This afternoon the Duke and Duchess and escort attended a championship lacrosse match at Varsity Oval. The Capi-tals of Ottawa played the Cornwalls for the Minto cup, emblematic of the Canadian championship. The Duke placed the ball and gave the word to begin the game and after the match presented the winners with the Minto cup. To-night an official dinner was held at Rideau Hall.

dinner was held at Rideau Hall.

The illuminations in honor of the Duke's visit are beautiful. The outlines of the Gothic Parliament and Departmental buildings are marked by white electric lights and Victoria Tower, the main shaft of the central building, is almost covered. Anyway, there was a lot of Coler talk at the club last evening although Mr. Croker has declined to commit himself in regard to it so far, other than to say that circumstances alter cases. Mr. Coler's hunger for office has caused a good many of the old timers in the membership of the club to laugh at him. are hung with red Chinese lanterns. All the principal buildings have electrical

The assassination of President McKinley at Buffalo had a rather dampening effect on the spirits of the royal party, and it is learned that the Governor General and those responsible for the safety of the visitors those responsible for the safety of the visitors have been very anxious lest any harm should come to the Duke and Duchess.

As a result extraordinary precautions have been taken during the party's stay in have been taken during the party's stay in Much to the astonishment of his friends.

Much to the astonishment of his friends.

The anxiety expressed by some of the royal suite was amusing. A story is told royal suite was amusing. A story is told that when the royal party arrived the other day one of the suite took the Mayor's Secretary, who was holding a bouquet, for an Anarchist, and had to be assured several times that he was all right. It is also said that the Governor General was responsible for the cancellation of the big recention to have been held here because responsible for the cancellation of the big reception to have been held here because he was afraid that the Duke and Duchess might be exposed to danger by coming in contact with such a mixed company.

Czar to Be Godfather to a Boy.

Special Cubic Desputch to THE SUN Paris, Sept. 20. - The Czar told the Counde Montebello last evening that he and the Czarina looked forward with pleasure to holding her boy, a grandson of the French Ambassador at St. Petersburg at the baptismal font.

get up and out in the early morning; or if you pleasure or business travel by early train, boat or open trolley, haven't you found it necessary to get the camphor balls out of your old light weight

Perhaps you haven't any old

Plenty of new ones here; good ones, long ones, short ones, light ones, dark ones.

255 Broadway, etc. Warren and 7 and 9 Warren Na 569 Broadway, etc. Princ. 1261 Broadway, etc. 324 abd 54 West 324 cd.

CHARLES C. DELMONICO DEAD.

HEAD OF FAMOUS RESTAURANT A VICTIM OF CONSUMPTION.

End Came at Colorado Springs-Took the Name of Ills Uncles When the Business Descended to Him in 1883-His Marriage Less Than a Year Ago Was a Surprise to Ills Friends.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Sept. 20. harles C. Delmonico of New York died here this morning. Mr. Delmonico came to Colorado in May, hoping that the climate would check the progress of consumption which had secured a hold upon him. At first he went to Denver, but a week or two later came to Colorado Springs. His death was unexpected, as he had apparently improved considerably in health, and it was believed that his life would be prolonged even if he did not completely re

Mrs. Delmonico lett for New York at 8:40 o'clock to-night with the body of her husband, and the funeral will be at the

Although he had not been in the best of health for the last three or four years, the despatch announcing the death was a great stating that he was rapidly getting well and strong again was received here three days ago. Charles Crist Delmonico was of the third charies crist Delinonico was of the third generation in the family whose name has been associated with good eating and famous dinners for three-quarters of a century. He had been the active head of Delmonico's since 1883, but associated with him in the ownership of the famous restaurant property were his brother, Louis, his sister, Josephine, and his aunt, Rosa, all of whom are living, so there is no likelihood that Delmonico's will not remain in the family. Louis, the brother of Charles, has two sons, Gardiner C. and Charles, so the passing down of the manage-ment of the business may be again, as it has been ever since the first Delmonico's has been ever since the first Delmonico's was established, from uncle to nephew. Charles Crist Delmonico succeeded his uncle. Lorenzo Delmonico, who had assumed the management after the death of his uncles. Peter and John Delmonico, who came to this country from Switzerland in 1827 and in December of the same fellow subjects, throughout the empire, more united than it ever was before, and becoming more conscious and appreciative of these ties of common sympathy and interest which bind it together; more than Lorenzo that the management went the second generation. When he took hold the family name was already famous and Delmonico's had outgrown its original posite Bowling Green Park in lower Broad posite Bowling Green Park in lower Broadway. It was in 1848 that Lorenzo became sole proprietor of the business, and seven years later he began the trek uptown that on the last move reached Fifth avenue and Forty-fourth street.

The first long jump northward of Delmonico was to Broadway and Chambers street. It was in the Chambers street restaurant that the wedding feast of Charles Crist Delmonico's mother was celebrated.

Crist Deimonico's mother was celebrated. She was a sister of Lorenzo, Charles and Siro, and she married Carlo Crist, a Swiss Italian. A year later there was another feast in the same restaurant for the same guests and one newcomer. The newcomer was held up at the head of the table in his swaddling clothes and introduced by Lorenzo as "my nephew Sharpe." That was in 1860.
The boy, Charles Crist, not yet a Delmonico in name, went to a private school in this city until he was 17 years old. Soon after city until he was 17 years old. Soon after that he went into the picture business with his brother Louis, but he was learning all the time the proper business of all Del-monicos, so when his uncle Lorenzo died in 1881 he was chosen as his natural successor. Then he had his name changed to Del-monico, by act of the Legislature, for ob-vious business reasons. His sister Jos-

Fourteenth street to Twenty-sixth street in 1876. The last move to Forty-fourth street and Fifth avenue was made five years ago. Charles Crist Delmonico, like his Charles Crist Delmonico, like his predecessors, improved things as he went along, but never discarded anything old that was good for something new and garish and noisy. It was once written of Charles C. Delmonico and his uncle and his uncle's uncle that no Delmonico ever considered himself to be above his business, so no gentleman ever considered himself to be above a Delmonico.

Mr. Delmonico's recreations were pigeon.

Mr. Delmonico's recreations were pigeon.

Mr. Delmonico's recreations were pigeon.

Mr. Delmonico's recreations were pigeon shooting, driving and billiards. He gen-erally managed to get to the theatre on erally managed to get to the theatre on all first nights. He also enjoyed the races and would occasionally make a wager on a horse owned by a friend. Three years ago he went abroad for his health who had classified him for years with the town's well-known confirmed bachelors, he was the first head of Delmonico's to take a wife. His bride was Miss Jeanne Ross Edwards, daughter of John F. Ed-Ross Edwards, daughter of John F. Edwards. They were married on Oct. 11, of last year, at the Edwards home, 119 St. Mark's avenue, Brooklyn. They first met at the Virginia Hot Springs, where Mr. Delmonico had gone to seek relief from an attack of rheumatism.

SWEDEN'S ROYAL GUESTS. Britain's King Received by King Oscar with hiss on Both Cheeks.

Special Cake Despatch to THE SUN Queen Alexandra, the Russian Dowager Empress and other royal personages arrived here at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon on the English royal yacht Osborne to pay a visit to the King of Sweden at Soflero

King Oscar kissed King Edward on both cheeks when he met him at the landing

The town was gaily decorated in honor of the occasion.

KAISER DECORATES CHUN. Grand Cross of the Red Eagle for the Chinese Prince.

Special Calle Derpuich to THE SUN.
BERLIN, Sept. 20. Emperor William has given the decoration of the Grand Cross of the Red Eagle to Prince Chun, the brother of the Emperor of China, who came here on an expiatory mission for the murder of If "so fortunate" as to have to Baron von Ketteler, the late German Min-

Itig Lean for Russia.

Special cubic Despoteh to THE SUP BERLIN, Sept. 20.—The Frank/urter Zeiung says the Czar's visit to France is directly connected with the raising of a great Russian loan. It is probable that a successful arrangement will be made in three mentlis. This loan, which will be for a milliard of france, is to be used for the construction of railways.

Col. Duffy Appointed an Assessor. Col. Edward Duffy of the Sixty-ninth Regiment was appointed a member of Regiment was appenned a high by Mayor the Board of Assessor's yesterday by Mayor Van Wyck, to fill the vacancy caused by high some time ago of Patrick M. ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY, the death some time age of Patrick Haverty. The salary is $3,000 a year.

The signature of E. W. Grove appears on every bear of the genuine Lazative Diverse Quinine, the remedy that cures a cold in ope day. Ade.

Light Biscuit Delicious Cake Dainty Pastries Fine Puddings Flaky Crusts

NEW CLAIM AGAINST TURKEY French Quay Company at Salonica Also Wants the Sultan to Settle.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. Paris, Sept. 20.-M. Constans, the French Ambassador to Turkey, who left Constantinople some time ago because the Sultan would not settle certain French claims. told a friend to-day that a new Turkish question had arisen. He says he has received a complaint from M. Bartissol, former Deputy, stating that the Sultan had refused to allow the collection of dues stipulated for when M. Bartissol formed a French company with a capital of 40,000,000 francs which constructed the quays at Salonica on the Sultan's private account.

M. Constans lays stress on the fact that this is a private matter which must be settled before diplomatic relations between France and Turkey can be resumed.

SURVEYS IN CHINA.

British Taking Steps to Learn More About the Interior.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN PERIN, Sept. 20.-Capt. Hunter and Goorkhas left here to-day on the Pekin and Hankow Railway for Cheng Ting-fu on a surveying expedition. They will record the distances between various points and the character of the country south to the Yangtse-Kiang, about which little is now known. From the southern point they will go east to the sea. Major Manifold will then go to Szechuen and afterward to Burmah. These expeditions are part of the British Intelligence service, which has been most active during the past year. They were instituted principally because it was disovered during the expeditions for the relief of the legations that the information in regard to the country was very

Major Pereira and the missionary who carried the relief funds to Singan-fu are returning here by way of the Han River

CHINA'S REFORMS.

Best Students to Be Sent to Foreign Countries.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN SHANGHAI, Sept. 20. — An important edict was issued by the Emperor on Sept. 17, commanding all Viceroys and Governors to select the best students in every province and send them to foreign countries to study politics and science.

Yung Wing thirty years ago. King Alfred Statue Unvelled.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Sept. 20.-Lord Rosebery un-Winchester to-day. He also delivered an address.

This is a renewal of the plan begun by an liness of several years duration. He was born in Bradinnch, Devonshire, England, 78 years ago in early life he learned the papermaking trade and in the twenty-sixth year of his age came to this country a poorman. He was employed in paper mills in Massachusetts and New Jersey. He went to Ballston forty-one years ago and erected nine paper mills, which he sold in March, 1896, to the Union Bag and Paper Company for 81,509,000. He then retired to private life, the was a Republican in State politics. In 1871 he was elected Assemblyman and held that office for five years. In 1878 and 1880 he was elected Member of Congress. In 1852 he was defeated, but in 1884 was reelected. He was interested in newspapers and at one time owned the New York Press, Schenectady Union and the Suratogian of Saratoga. His charitable deeds were many. He erected the Methodist Church and tarsonage in Ballston at a cost of $75,000. His fortune is estimated as several millions. He was a thirty-second degree Mason and Major-General in the Knights of Pythias. He is survived by a son, George West, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. D. W. Mabee. His wife died eight months ago.

It Lucius T. Sheffield, a well-known dentist.

D. W. Mabee. His wife died eight months ago.

Dr Lucius T Sheffield, a well-known dentist of this city and the inventor of several improvements in crown and bridge work died at his home. 28 West Thirty-second street, early yesterday morning. He was the son of Dr W. W. Sheffield and was born in New London, Conn., in 1854. He was a graduate of Norwich Academy and received his professional education at Harvard Dental College. He practised in Paris in 1878 and 1879 and later opened offices in this city. Dr Sheffield was a member of the Engineer's Club. He leaves a widow and two sons.

Capt. Herbert 1. Draper of the Marine Corps, died at Hong Kong on Thursday of heart failure. He was an officer of prenounced ability and had an excellent record for service in China. He was appointed to the Marine Corps from Kansas, on July 1, 1886, and was last stationed at Cavite He was taken il there a short time ago and left for Hong Kong last week. The Secretary of the Navy has directed Commander Franklin J. Drake, now at Hong Kong, to send the body by the first steamship to the United States.

William Drysciale, who won fame as a content and a writer of books for boys, died

William Drysdale, who won fame as a reporter and a writer of books for boys, died yesterday at his home in Cranford, N. J. He was born on July H. 1852, in Lancaster, Pa. After leaving the Columbia law school he became a reporter for THE SUN. He spent much of his time in the Bahanas and West Indies as a correspondent of the New York Times. He wrote many romances for boys, including The Young Reporter. "The Young Supercarge." Codet Standish of the St. Louis and "Helps for Ambitious Boys in 1876, during the Certernial Exposition of the Philadelphia, Drysdale was city editor of the Philadelphia Times. In 1885 Mr. Drysdale married Miss Rigciew, danghier of the Philadelphia, Drysdale was city editor of the Philadelphia Times. In 1885 Mr. Drysdale married Miss Rigciew, danghier of the Founder of Cranford. He will be buried to-morrow in Greenwood.

to-morrow in Greenwood
Mrs. Clara W. Morton, wife of Dr. Henry Morton, President of Stevens Institute, Hoboken, died vesterday morning at their summer hame near Pine Hill, N. J. Mrs. Morton was the daughter of S. M. Dodges of New York. She leaves two some both of age.
The funeral will be from Pine Hill on Monday and the Rev. J. Clayton Mitchell of Hoboken will officiate.

will afficiate
Constantin Lezarevitch died on Thursday at his home, so Douglass street, Brooklyn, in his seventy-sixth year. He came to this country from Servia in 1845 and engaged in the shipping business. He made several inventions, of which the balcony fire escape was the best-known. He leaves a widow and son.

CZAR DISAPPOINTS PARIS.

CROWDS GATHER IN THE HOPE OF SEEING HIM.

Finally Convinced That the Russian Ruler Was Not Coming-Czar and Czarine Spend a Restful Day at Complegne Object to Close Guard Over Them

Paris, Sept. 20 - Although it was publicly announced that the Czar was not coming to Paris a large number of the inhabitants did not believe it, and crowds gathered at the Alexander Bridge, the Champs Elysées, Rue Lafayette and around the north side of the railway station until their numbers stopped street traffic. Workmen were heard declining offers of money for advantageous places, declaring that the Czar could not be seen daily. Numerous telescopes and field glasses swept Rue Lafavette in the direction of the station, their users being anxious to be the first to announce that the Czar was coming. When it was finally im-Major Courtenay C. Manifold of the Sixth pressed upon the people that his Majesty was really not going to visit Paris the bitterest disappointment was expressed.

It is said that the Czar is bored almost to death by the constant surveillance to which he has been subjected since he landed in France. To-day he insisted upon taking a walk in the forest with the Czarina, and with fear and trembling the authorities yielded. Their Majesties, accompanied by a private chamberlain and two maids of honor, had a peaceful stroll and much to the relief of the French officials returned the relief of the French officials returned at 4 14 o'clock. During their walk the soldiers and police, with whom the forest swarmed, kept well out of sight.

COMPTEGNE, Sept. 20.—There was no definite programme for the Czar and Czarina to-day and their Majesties rested at the château. They were tired after the long military maneuvres of yesterday. The royal pair took luncheon in their private apartments at the château.

The Czarina has many photographs which she took of yesterday's scenes.

The Czar received Gen. Boisdeffre at Compiègne this afternoon.

Count Lamsdorff and M. Delcassé, the Foreign Ministers respectively of Russia.

Foreign Ministers respectively of Russia and France, interchanged visits at Com-piegne to-day. M. Waldeck-Rousseau, the French Prime Minister, also visited the Car this morning, and M. Delcassé was received by the Russian Emperor this afternoon.

The afternoon papers are filled with complaints from Senators, Deputies and members of the press at the scurvy manner. in which they were treated as the invited guests of President Loubet at Dunkirk. One Senator, writing to the Figure, says: "The Government shall pay dearly for this treat."

Parisians are disgusted with the Government for advising the Czar not to come Paris. Count Lamsdorff and M. Delcasse had Count Lamsdorff and M. Delcasse had a long conference this afternoon.

The Czar has conferred upon Prime Minister Waldeck-Rousseau, M. Paul Deschanel, President of the Chamber of Deputies, and M. Fallières, President of the Senate, the grand cordon of the Order of Alexander Newsky. The Ministers have received the decoration of the White Eagle.

The guests at the dinner to-night include besides the Ministers, MM. Bouguereau, Rever, Rostand, Paul Hervieu and Clarétie.

The dinner and gala performance were great successes. His Majesty appeared to be highly satisfied with the performance given in his honor and himself set the signal for applause. Mme. Bartet recited charmingly Rostand's complimentary ode.

MARRIED

VAN VARICK - MORRELL -- At Passaio, N. J. on Thursday, Sept. 19, 1901, by the Rev. William Morris Gilbert, James F. Van Variok to-

DIED.

DRYSDALE - At Cranford, N. J.; on Friday; Sept. 20, 1901, of heart failure, William Drysdale; dged 49 years. Funeral services will be held at 24 Eastman et.2 Cranford, N. J., on Sunday, Sept. 22, 1901, 41 10 A. M. Interment at Greenwood. GOTTSBERGER At Irrington on Hudson, on Thursday, Sept. 19, 1901. George, son of the late Julia Timmins and John George Gotts-berger. Requiem mass on Saturday, Sept. 21, 1901, at 10 A. M., at St. Patrick's Old Cathedral, Mott st. MORTON. -At Pine Hill, N. Y., on Friday, Sept. 20, 1901, Clara W., wife of Henry Morton and daughter of S. M. Dodge.

Puneral from Pine Hill, on Monday afternoon.

SCHAEFER On Wednesday, Sept. 18, 1901, at his residence, 50 Audubon av., Henry J., baloved husband of Estella Schaefer. Services Saturday evening. Sept. 21, 1901, 41

Special Hotices. THE CHARM of beauty is beautiful hair. Secure with PARKER'S HAUTI DALSAM. HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 18 cts.

Religious Motices.

CHURCH OF ZION AND ST TIMOTHY, West 57th M., between Sth and 8th aus.

8 A. M. Holy Communion.

11 A. M. Morning Prayer. Sermon by the Rector, the Her Dr. Luberk.

A.P. M. Evening Prayer. Sermon by the Rer.

F. N. Osckoroft.

SERVICES will be held in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, on Sunday evening, Sept 22, at 7 43 P. M. At the request of the Rev. Dr. Hühs, the Hon. S. V. White will, address the meeting on. The Personality and Character of the Late President McKiniey at Church, Statesman and Friend. GRACE M. E. CHI RCH, 108th 8t., between Co-tumbus and Amsterdam area. 1-R 1.0-US ALBERT PANKS will preach at 11:00 and 8:00 Evening prelude. "Fresident Theodore Rossevell, the Most Picturesque Brio in Montro, Public Life.

WESTMINSTER PRESISTED AN ON THE PASSON, John Lord Lee, D. D. Subject, "A Call to Service." Song service with preaching, 7-45 P. M., "Reverence for God and Our Rulets." EGLISE 10' SAINT ESPECT, 45 Est 27th rue.

Service divin le domanche a 10 % h. du matin. Rev.

A. V. Wittnesser, Recteur.

ST JAMES S METHODIST EPISCOPAL - Allen MacRossie, pastor, will preach morning and evening

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tableta